

LIVING STREAMS by Morningstar Music

G            D            G            C D            G F C G F C G

          G                            Am            D                            G
He who dwells in the shelter of the Most High, will abide in the shadow of almighty God!

          G                            Am            D                            G
He who dwells in the shelter of the Most High, will abide in the shadow of almighty God!

          D            G            D            G
And he will be, like a tree. Planted by living streams.

          D            G            C D            G F C G F C G
And she will be, like a tree. Planted by living streams.