

LET ME COUNT THE WAYS

If God is real (and we think He is) then it is critical to understand what it is He desires from us. To honor God is the greatest aspiration of man, and it yields fruit into eternity. Here are a few areas to consider as we make our lives count. What is it that God values? Ephesians 5:19 and Colossians 3:16 are our backdrop.

Taking care to make sure we are making our time, talents, and treasures count.
How is this unfolding for you?

Living a life which avoids things that consume our spiritual heart. What are a few?

Making it our quest to understand what it means to be filled by the Spirit.
What does this mean? How does it look?

Singing our own God "Songs." We don't have to prepare a performance to sing for God - what are your own songs which flow from your own heart?

Sharing in the faith of those who have gone before us - who is it from your family, history, or the bible who inspires your faith?

Encouraging others in what is good and true - in what ways have you embraced the life of an encourager?
Is this easy or difficult for you?

Choosing to be lower than others in order to lift them up with our gifts and abilities - how do your gifts lift up others?

Celebrating God's wonder and beauty through everything that has been made and spoken - where and how do you see evidences of God most?
